

Meet the Grower

Rose Acre Farms Seymour, IN

Rose Acre Farms began as a small family operation with 1,000 hens, but has grown to become one of America's largest egg producers. Today, we remember the company's history while still honoring the Rust family's values that have characterized Rose Acre Farms from the beginning.

Rose Acre Farms is an innovative company dedicated to producing shell eggs and egg products of exceptional quality while protecting animal health and welfare. Our streamlined egg production allows us to ensure that the chickens are well cared for throughout their life cycles. Our in-house veterinarian and nutritionists follow our flocks at each stage, always looking for ways to enhance the health and well-being of the birds. Streamlined production also creates efficiencies that provide value to our customers and helps us provide a consistent supply of eggs, making us a trusted egg vendor.

Rose Acre Farms produces a wide range of shell eggs, specialty eggs and egg products:

- Shell eggs include white and brown table eggs, from cage-free or conventionally raised hens.
- Specialty eggs including cage-free, Omega 3, vegetarian, and other nutritionally enhanced eggs.
- Our egg products include liquid eggs, dried eggs and egg protein powder made from dried egg whites.
